

Key features of the Retirement Solutions Group Stakeholder Pension Plan

The Financial Conduct Authority is a financial services regulator. It requires us, Royal London, to give you this important information to help you decide whether our Retirement Solutions Group Stakeholder Pension Plan is right for you. You should read this document carefully, so that you understand what you're buying, and then keep it safe for future reference. If you're concerned that this plan may not be suitable for you, speak to a financial adviser.

This is an important document and you should read it together with your illustration. Please read it and keep for future reference.

This document contains the following information:

- the aims of the Retirement Solutions Group Stakeholder Pension Plan
- your commitments if you take out the plan
- the risks associated with the plan
- questions and answers that explain the plan's main features
- how to contact us.

This plan meets your demands and needs if you want to save for your retirement.

Its aims

- To build up a sum of money tax efficiently, which provides you with an income any time after age 55. This will change to age 57 from 6 April 2028.

Your commitment

- You and/or your employer agree to make regular contributions to your plan until your chosen pension date. You can also make a single contribution or a transfer payment from another pension plan.
- You agree to make up any difference between the contributions made by your employer and the minimum total of contributions set out in the auto enrolment requirements.
- You agree to tell us if your circumstances change. For example, if you no longer have UK earnings or are no longer resident in the UK.
- You need to let the plan build up until you're allowed to access your pension savings.

If you take pension savings from another pension plan you need to tell us as this may trigger the MPAA (money purchase annual allowance).

Risks

- We can't guarantee what you'll get back at your chosen pension date. Various factors can alter your plan value. For example:
  - Investment performance, interest rates and charges may be different to those illustrated.
  - You could stop making regular contributions or take a contribution holiday.
  - You might take some or all of your pension savings earlier than your chosen pension date. If you take your pension savings earlier than your chosen pension date, you should think about reviewing your investment option as it may no longer be appropriate.
  - Tax rules and legislation can change and the value of any tax benefits will depend on your individual circumstances.
  - Investment returns are never guaranteed. So while there's a chance your pension savings could grow, their value can also go down. This means you could get back less than you started with.
- If you start your plan with a single contribution or transfer payment and then cancel it within 30 days, the amount returned will be less than you paid in if the value of your investment has fallen.

- If you transfer pension savings from another pension plan, you may be giving up valuable benefits, and there's no guarantee that your pension savings will be more than if you had stayed in your previous plan.

Questions and answers

What is a group stakeholder pension plan?

A group stakeholder pension plan allows you to build up money tax efficiently for retirement to provide you with an income for life and, cash lump sums(s) and/or tax-free cash.

We designed the plan for people who want to build up tax efficient savings in a flexible way.

The government has set minimum standards that companies must meet for a stakeholder pension. These are to do with contribution levels, costs, and terms and conditions. This plan meets these standards.

Your illustration will show your contributions and the costs involved in running the plan.

What contributions can be made into my plan?

You and/or your employer can make regular contributions to your plan. You can also make single contributions at any time. If you have another pension plan, you may be able to transfer it into this plan.

The minimum single or regular contribution is £20.

You can make contributions into your plan either from your net salary, or using salary exchange. Your employer will tell you on which basis you make contributions.

You can ask to stop contributing, or reduce contributions to your plan and it may also reduce the amount of contributions your employer pays in. You can also ask to take a contribution holiday and then restart contributions again. Stopping or reducing contributions may reduce the amount you get back from your plan and it may also reduce the amount of contributions your employer pays in. You can ask us for more information about the effect of stopping or reducing your contributions.

Contributions made from your net salary

Your contributions are taken from your salary, after tax has been paid, and paid to us by your employer.

We add tax relief at the basic rate and invest it in your plan. We then reclaim the basic rate tax relief from HMRC.

If you're an intermediate rate (Scottish taxpayers only), higher rate or additional rate taxpayer, you could be entitled to claim more tax relief through a self-assessment tax return or by contacting your local tax office.

You'll receive tax relief on all regular and single contributions you make to your plan up to a maximum of £3,600 a year or 100% of your relevant UK earnings, whichever is greater. This is after tax relief at the basic rate of income tax is added; so you would only pay £2,880 for a gross contribution of £3,600. If you pay tax -relieved contributions above the annual allowance there may be a tax charge. See 'What about tax?'.

Your regular contributions are usually paid monthly and can be paid as a percentage of your salary or as a fixed amount.

Tax rules and legislation can change and the value of any tax benefits will depend on your individual circumstances.

Contributions made using salary exchange

Salary exchange is an agreement between you and your employer where you voluntarily exchange part of your gross salary in return for employer contributions into your plan.

These contributions are taken before tax and National Insurance Contributions (NIC) are paid. As your salary's reduced, you pay less tax and NIC. Salary exchange may not be suitable for everyone. You should speak to your employer for more information.

What contributions do I have to make into my plan?

Auto enrolment requires a total minimum contribution to your plan and your employer must contribute at least part of this. If your employer contributes less than the total minimum amount, you'll have to make up the difference.

Your employer will confirm the amount of contributions you'll have to make and will tell you if that amount will change. To find out more about the minimum contributions, visit your pension website or speak to a financial adviser.

Where are the contributions invested?

Your contributions, including any made on your behalf, are pooled with those made by other investors in unit-linked funds. These are invested in a range of different types of funds, including company shares, property, bonds and cash.

The unit-linked funds are made up of units, which you buy with your contributions. The price of these units depends directly on the value of the investments in the fund.

We work out the value of your investment in each unit-linked fund based on the total number of units you have in the fund and the unit price (the price at which we buy and sell units).

If the unit price rises or falls, so will the value of your investment in the unit-linked fund.

You can choose from a wide range of investment options. You can read about the investment options in our Pension investment options guide.

Your employer's adviser may have created an additional range of investment options for your plan. If this applies to your plan, you'll find more information in your joining pack.

If you decide to choose your own investments and don't use the scheme default investment, there may be an additional charge.

If you don't tell us how to invest your contributions, we'll invest them in the plan's default investment choice.

You can switch your investments or change the investment choice for future contributions, although there may be conditions for doing so.

We have the right to delay a transfer, switch of investments or retirement before or after your chosen pension date. We'd do this to protect the interests of everyone invested in that particular fund.

ProfitShare

We believe our customers should share in our success. That's why we'll aim to give your pension savings an extra boost by adding a share of our profits to your plan each year. We've called this your ProfitShare.

How ProfitShare works

We'll review our financial strength and performance at the end of each year to decide if ProfitShare can be awarded.

Your ProfitShare award will be applied in April each year as long as your plan was in force on 31 December the previous year and on the date the award is given. It'll be based on the value of your plan at the date of the award and will be invested in the same investment choice as your other pension savings.

You can take the value of your ProfitShare account along with the rest of your pension savings.

There's no guarantee that we'll be able to award ProfitShare every year. But once we've awarded ProfitShare, we'll never ask for it back.

What might I get when I access my pension savings?

Your illustration will provide an indication of what you might get back when you want to retire, although this can't be guaranteed.

What can I do with my plan when I access my pension savings?

Any time after age 55, changing to age 57 from 6 April 2028, you'll have access to your pension savings. You don't need to do anything immediately as your pension savings can remain invested, but you'll need to make a decision before you reach age 75.

With each retirement option, you can normally take up to 25% of your pension savings tax free. The other 75% is taxable.

You'll be able to use your plan value to:

- take a cash lump sum which can be some or all of your pension savings
- buy a secure income which will provide you with an income for life, this is often called 'an annuity'
- transfer to an income drawdown plan so you can receive an income and/or cash lump sum(s)
- or, a combination of all the options.

An annuity gives you a guaranteed income for life.

An income drawdown plan gives you flexibility to take income as and when you want.

You can shop around to find a plan that's right for you, with the best rates.

You don't need to have stopped working to take an income from your plan. Any income you take will be taxed as an earned income.

When you access all or part of your pension savings, it's important that you think about your needs in both the early and the later part of your retirement. It's your responsibility to ensure your pension savings don't run out and will last you for the rest of your life.

You can find out more about your options at royallondon.com/retirement

What happens if I die?

We'll normally pay out your plan value as a lump sum to the individuals you've nominated such as your spouse, civil partner or dependants on your death.

If you've set up a trust to receive the death benefits, we'll pay the lump sum to the trustees.

Alternatively, you can request that we use your plan value to provide an income for your beneficiaries such as your spouse, civil partner or dependants on your death.

What happens if I leave my employer?

If you leave your employer, you can continue to make contributions to the plan at any time. This includes regular contributions, single contributions or transfer payments. Any regular contributions must be made by direct debit.

Any contributions made by your employer will stop.

You can also stop paying contributions and leave your funds invested or transfer to another plan.

What are the charges?

We'll apply an annual management charge for managing your plan. If you instruct us to make any additional transfer in, single contribution or increase to your regular contributions and also confirm that you're not using an adviser, we may apply an additional administration charge to your plan.

If your employer is automatically enrolling you into their group stakeholder pension to meet their duties to provide a suitable workplace pension, then the charges are subject to a charge cap. This cap is 0.75% and applies to the default investment for the group stakeholder pension. Even if you select your own investments, the charges on the Retirement Solutions Group Stakeholder Pension Plan are capped at 1%. The charge that will apply to your plan will be detailed in your Plan certificate which you'll receive after you have joined.

The charge isn't subject to Value Added Tax (VAT). We regularly review our charges and they could change in the future.

What about tax?

Our pension investment funds are generally free of UK income and capital gains tax. However, we can't reclaim tax deducted at source from the dividends of UK company shares.

There are limits on the amount you can invest in pension plans and on the maximum value of pension savings that you can build up without being subject to a tax charge. These limits are known as the annual allowance and the lifetime allowance.

If you want to find out more, speak to a financial adviser or visit your pension website.

You don't receive tax relief on payments you transfer into your plan from another pension plan.

If you move overseas, restrictions may apply. To find out more, speak to a financial adviser.

If you die, there's normally no inheritance tax payable on the value of your plan, unless it forms part of your estate.

The pension income you receive will be taxable as earned income. You can normally take up to 25% of the value of your plan tax-free, however the remainder of your plan will be taxed as earned income. If you take a large cash sum, you could end up paying more tax. It's important to check whether the cash sum will push you into a higher tax bracket.

Any death benefits are normally payable tax-free.

Tax rules and legislation can change and the value of any tax benefits will depend on your individual circumstances or those of any beneficiaries receiving death benefits.

We recommend you get professional advice if you need more information on tax.

Can I transfer my plan?

You can transfer your plan to another pension plan at any time.

Your illustration gives examples of how much you could potentially transfer to another pension plan, depending on when you transfer and how your investments perform.

Can I change my mind?

You can opt out of the plan. Your plan documents will tell you how and when you can do this. As long as you opt out of the plan within your opt out period, we'll arrange for your contributions to be refunded to you. If you've taken any lump sum(s) from your plan, these would need to be repaid. If you don't opt out, your plan will continue.

If you made a transfer payment to the plan, you can change your mind within 30 days of receiving the plan documents. You don't have to opt out of the plan. You must write and tell us. You can contact us in writing by using the details in the How to contact us section. We'll pay the money back to the other pension provider it came from. If the transfer payment has come from an occupational pension scheme, the trustees of the transferring scheme may not accept the transfer payment back if you decide to cancel the plan.

If you make a single contribution or transfer payment and the plan value has fallen by the time it's cancelled, the amount returned will be the plan value. This will be less than you paid in.

If the plan value has increased by the time it's cancelled, the amount returned will be the value of the contributions.

How will I know how my plan's doing?

We'll send you a yearly statement to show you how your plan's doing. You should review your plan on a regular basis to ensure your pension plan meets your needs. Your financial adviser can help you with this.
